Ankra International revolutionized load securement with SilverCap, the world's first ratcheting winch. SilverCap has been THE most significant improvement to the winch since its invention over 30 years ago.

Now Ankra's made SilverCap even better! The NEW SilverCap features GrimeGuard™, a synthetic rubber ratchet-cap seal for ultimate protection against weather and dirt. The ratchet-cap has also been engineered with a tamper-resistant center shaft with locking threads, ensuring that the cap stays put and cannot be removed.

The NEW SilverCap still works like the original. Its patented ratcheting action allows you to keep the bar in the cap until the load-strap is tightened. There's less chance of the bar slipping or jamming, which can result in injury.

And SilverCap is built even more Ankra-tough, which means it exceeds the industry's most rigid quality and finish standards and will keep on crankin', even under the harshest road conditions.

The NEW SilverCap is available in weld-on, sliding or portable-mount models for virtually any flat-bed trailer application.

Want faster, easier, safer – and now even tougher - flat-bed trailer load-securement? Look for the silver cap...

SilverCap-the World's First Ratcheting Winch.

With SilverCap, the winch bar remains engaged in the ratchet-cap – after tensioning, the cap rotates freely in the opposite direction.
