Invented in 1835, the wrench was revolutionized almost 80 years later by the ratchet. The ratchet made the wrench easier, safer, and more efficient.

Now Ancra's SilverCap Ratcheting Cap Winch does the same thing for the standard flat-bed winch. SilverCap is THE most significant improvement to the winch since its invention over 30 years ago.

With a standard winch, you have to insert and remove the winch bar from the winch cap with every turn of the mandrel. It's laborious and can take a lot of time.

SilverCap's patented ratcheting action allows you to keep the bar in the cap until the load-strap is tightened. Plus there's less chance of the bar slipping or jamming, which can result in injury.

And SilverCap is built Ancra-tough, which means it exceeds the industry's most rigid quality and finish standards and will keep on crankin', even under the harshest road conditions.

SilverCap is available now in weld-on, sliding or portable-mount models for virtually any flat-bed trailer application.

Want faster, easier and safer flat-bed trailer load-securement? Look for the silver cap... SilverCap-the World's First Ratcheting Winch.

With SilverCap, the winch bar remains engaged in the ratchet cap – after tensioning, the cap rotates freely in the opposite direction.
